Peggy Baumgartner has dedicated her life to training excellence. Her passion for developing people, proven expertise, vast training experience, and engaging style make her the perfect trainer to deliver Performance Coaching's programs to demanding, senior-level audiences.

WHAT PARTICIPANTS ARE SAYING:

"...dynamic and insightful..."

"Peggy is extraordinary"

"...inspiring yet practical..."

"Peggy was an amazing facilitator. Great experience!"

Peggy's formidable background includes more than 20 years of corporate training experience, an Honours Business degree from Wilfrid Laurier University, post-graduate adult education training, and master certification in dozens of training programs.

In her nine years with Performance Coaching, Peggy has delivered hundreds of exceptional programs to leading corporations across numerous industries. She consistently receives incredible reviews, and inspires a deep commitment in those she coaches. She works extensively with the most senior level of organizations, including the executive team and often the CEO. As an advanced level certified TAIS coach, Peggy has driven the development of Performance Coaching's S.W.O.T. Yourself program, and has adapted the program to the needs of several major clients.

WHERE PEGGY HAS COACHED:

- > Canada
- > United States
- > Caribbean
- > China
- > Europe

Before joining Performance Coaching, Peggy worked with IBM for thirteen years. In the course of her career she managed the Leadership Curriculum, re-designed their new-hire program, and developed an Executive Leadership Tool for senior managers. Her work won numerous internal awards for innovation, and was delivered by Peggy throughout Europe, China, the United States and the Caribbean.

Peggy's extensive corporate background has provided her with a deep understanding of the challenges her clients face. Often, she has faced them too! Explains

Gail Collins, HR Representative for The City of Burlington: "Peggy has an incredible ability to take a complex situation or problem that someone is dealing with and make it easy for them to get a handle on it."

Peggy's infectious personality, sharp intellect, and quick wit both challenge and inspire. "Peggy was phenomenal, she was amazingly good, she made it look really easy," says Paul Slinger, a VP at Union Energy, in a comment that echoes what we hear from Peggy's clients after every session.
